Community Art Studios welcome everyone as an artist, regardless of age or ability. They are part of a worldwide "art hive" initiative that aim to bring an arts space to every community. The Community Art Studio is all about respect and inclusion, where you can explore your creativity in a relaxing, stress-free environment. Folks generally are able to drop-in, and it is not a structured class. There are a wide variety of materials available, or people can bring their own thing to work on.
